About SnapShop

SnapShop has been created by FSP, one of the most trusted names in retail business information and consultancy. You can benefit from our knowledge online, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Our online database provides real-time information on UK & RoI retailers from a wide variety of source. From restaurants and fast food franchises to fashion and entertainment high street retailers, our 2000+ records cover all of the key names in the UK retail industry and smaller, regional retailers, as well as identifying new entrants to the market.

SnapShop gives you the facility to search and browse through our extensive collection of information, including: concise descriptions of each retailer, sales information, detailed and up to date accounts analysis, store numbers and information, real-time news articles, contact details, rent statistics and comparable retailers

There are 3 areas of SnapShop available to Members only; the Retailer Directory, News Archive, Retail Statistics page along with a monthly email providing links to the latest news. The following pages provide a brief look at these unique features.

Retailer Directory – Searching

You can search the SnapShop database in a number of different ways, dependent on your needs.

The Retailer Name search allows you to search by a partial or full retailer name.

The additional filters available include merchandise category (sub divided into Predominant Customer Group for Clothing & Footwear); selling space; pricing; retail format; outlet numbers; turnover; number of employees, all of which can be used singularly or in any combination you wish

Founded in 1982, Next is a UK-based retailer of fashion and accessories for men, women and children with a chain of over 500 stores throughout the UK and Ireland plus an online/mail order business called Next Directory. Next also has an international presence trading from nearly 200 stores in 30 overseas countries.

It is positioned in the Middle sector of the clothing/footwear market, with focus on Assured Individual fashion, and is a private limited company.

Next trades both in town and out-of-town/non-high street formats, and over the last few years several larger format stores have opened across the UK, including its own dedicated Home stores offering a full range of homewares.

In October 2008, Next bought womens fashion chain Lipsy, which designs and sells its own branded younger women's fashion products through retail, internet and wholesale channels.

The parent company of Next is Next plc which is listed on the London Stock Exchange.

News Search

There are 3 ways to search our News archive, aside from viewing articles within Retail Fascia records. You can use the Retail News Articles search, General Retail News search, and the Summarised News (as published in SnapShop Monthly), which can be accessed using the 'News Search' button from any Retailer Directory page.

The Retail News Articles allows you to search retailer specific articles by article type (for example, 'expansion') and within a time frame; the General Retail News section provides you with non-retailer specific articles, on topics such as property e-tailing, shopping habits, sector specific news and retailer trends/statistics, amongst other things. The searches are displayed in a list, with clickable headlines.

The database behind SnapShop is a working tool for FSP and is constantly updated. New information is immediately replicated on SnapShop on a daily basis.

Where does the information come from?

Most of the information is in the public domain coming from trade journals and the press generally; also from the retailers' own websites; accounts filed with Companies House and our business partners. This information is supplemented by FSP analysis and comments.

How many retailers are covered and to what extent?

We have over 2,000 retailers on SnapShop. For many of these, the information is extensive; for others, primarily because they are small, very specialist, or new to the UK market, the information is limited. However, with the data on SnapShop constantly being reviewed, the information available on any one company will always increase.

Testimonials

Angela Goodings – Henderson

Henderson are long standing customers of FSP's SnapShop service and we find their extensive coverage and detailed retailer information extremely useful in supporting our retail business. The website is easy to use and their personalised email alert system allows us to receive up to date information on the continued changes within our retail market.
